Our growing company is searching for experienced candidates for the position of experience architect. We appreciate you taking the time to review the list of qualifications and to apply for the position. If you don't fill all of the qualifications, you may still be considered depending on your level of experience.

Responsibilities for experience architect

- Defines and achieves the strategy roadmap for the enterprise including human-computer interface design, user experience design, user stories/journeys, providing a holistic view of the experience, vertical knowledge of the industry and systems, and documenting and analyzing key features for development of a series of interactions intended to enhance end-user experiences
- Responsible for connecting the optimal human experience with technology ensuring that the experience meets or exceeds the needs and objectives of the intended end-user population
- In collaboration with the broader technology and campus stakeholders, identify an architectural roadmap in support of instructional and learning goals established by the academic community
- Ensures standards and framework compliance by providing well-documented standards, data models, data inventories, data-to-business service alignment, and information system diagrams
- Apply sound user centred design principles using the LEAN methodology, influence and recommend project strategy and direction
- Develop user scenarios, personas, user flows and design concepts that support your recommendation
- Plan and execute user research / user testing to validate ideas and designs
- Establishes and maintains web information architecture that is well organized, user friendly, and presents a consistent corporate look and feel

- Partner with business stakeholder to identify opportunities by understanding strategic themes, drivers, and environmental factors

Qualifications for experience architect

- Assist in set up of a global process for developing and implementing EA strategy to drive alignment of architecture initiatives across emerging technologies (Cloud, Data, Social, Mobile, Security, M2M, UX, etc)
- 8 - 10+ years of experience leading emerging technology management functions, preferably in the financial services industry
- Creation of experience design artifacts, including visioning documents, user flows, wireframes, mockups, and prototypes
- Ability to work with research teams to conduct and interpret various user research methodologies, ethnographic research and usability testing
- Partnering with technologists and visual designers when appropriate
- Presenting to clients and obtaining buy-in