

Example of Facility Engineer Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our company is growing rapidly and is searching for experienced candidates for the position of facility engineer. We appreciate you taking the time to review the list of qualifications and to apply for the position. If you don't fill all of the qualifications, you may still be considered depending on your level of experience.

Responsibilities for facility engineer

- Provide support with routine facility management
- Prepare project cost estimates for Government review
- Prepare and review project time schedules
- Analyze project proposals, providing technical review of design calculations, analyses, drawings and specifications to ensure compliance with project objectives and standards
- Provide input to the KO and COR or their designated representatives during construction contract negotiation and administration of the resulting contract
- Coordinate all design phases with the appropriate managers, engineers, and staff elements
- Maintain current engineering data and milestones for assigned projects
- Participate in meetings with contractors and project sponsors
- Advise the Government on inspection, maintenance and repair standards
- Recommend new infrastructure equipment installations and modification to facilities to accommodate new communications equipment in support of mission requirements and reflective of new technologies

Qualifications for facility engineer

- Less experience candidate will be considered as Assistant Facilities Engineer
- Five years' full-time experience in related field with a college degree preferred

- Possess a Bachelor in Mechanical Engineering degree or Master in Mechanical Engineering
- Minimum 3 years of working experience in mechanical engineering