Our innovative and growing company is looking for a finance systems analyst. We appreciate you taking the time to review the list of qualifications and to apply for the position. If you don't fill all of the qualifications, you may still be considered depending on your level of experience.

Responsibilities for finance systems analyst

- Responsible for feasibility study of proposed projects
- Responsible for development of the 'wants and needs' list and approval
- Responsible for software evaluation, including vendor analysis, vendor surveys and interviews
- Responsible for requirement definition including final report and User Interface definition, logical system flow and implementation plans
- Responsible for complete documentation and follow-up evaluation
- Responsible for implementation including vendor and in-house testing, readiness assessment, training and hardware capacity evaluation
- Identifies system impact of changes in Rosemount inc. business, user needs, external business environment
- Reviews requirements and recommends solution method (i.e., Development tools PC, Main frame development or manual procedure)
- Develops complex business solutions using Development tools
- Insures documentation of assigned systems is kept up to date

Qualifications for finance systems analyst

- Experience with SAS including basic standard SAS procedures such as Proc Freq, Proc Format, Proc Sort, Proc SQL, and Proc Summary traditional SAS data step programming is preferred
- Project Management certification or Business Analyst certification, or

- In-depth knowledge or business requirements and corporate priorities
- Strong ability in implementing program and project plans, monitoring progress, resource usage, and quality
- Advanced ability to gather/refine complex business requirements, recommend or make decisions on business requirements/interdependencies
- Strong knowledge with conducting impact and risk assessments and developing impact and risk management plans