Our company is searching for experienced candidates for the position of fullstack developer. If you are looking for an exciting place to work, please take a look at the list of qualifications below.

Responsibilities for fullstack developer

- We have brand new office in Sydney
- At Domain we're passionate about technology and do everything we can to keep our developers up to date with the latest trends
- We have innovation days once a quarter so if you have an idea to make Domain better and learn a new technology you have free rein to do so
- We all love to use the latest technologies and we're already using C# 6 and Visual Studio 2017
- Codes solutions to problems using a structured approach keeping in mind long term maintainability and quick accessibility
- Communicates and maintains a productive working relationship with user base of product / service line all appropriate parties to an assignment, both internal and external to IT
- Reports appropriate and corrects status to project leadership, Manager, and Director
- Attends and participates in required team meetings, including Scrum and other Agile ceremonies
- Takes ownership of end-to-end system functionality as related to their assigned project
- PHP knowleadge

Qualifications for fullstack developer

- Java-based application servers

- Establish yourself as a "go to" person for a key technology in our stack or area of our application and system
- Desirable to have familiarity with BDD frameworks
- 4+ years of Fullstack C# .NET Development