

Example of Gas Specialist Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our growing company is hiring for a gas specialist. If you are looking for an exciting place to work, please take a look at the list of qualifications below.

Responsibilities for gas specialist

- Develop and maintain relationships with qualified contractors, suppliers, and vendors to ensure competition exists within the market place
- Have a complete and thorough understanding of the market & supplier conditions
- Develop comprehensive bid packages that clearly communicate the scope of work, company requirements, and the desired outcome to ensure a high probability that project success will ultimately be achieved
- Act as an authorized agent of the company with responsibility for managing supplier performance and authority to commit company resources through contracts and agreements
- Assist in resolving any invoice discrepancies
- Preparation of applications for environmental permits, permit modifications and compliance submittals associated with federal, state and local environmental regulations
- Development, review and maintenance of environmental compliance plans
- Tracking and assignment of permits and compliance tasks for multiple projects and facilities using database and other systems
- Classification and electronic filing of environmental compliance data, applications, permits and reports
- Peer review and verification of compliance data and reports

Qualifications for gas specialist

- This position requires acting as a company representative when interacting

- Exert up to 100 lbs
- Bachelor's degree in an engineering or related degree field required
- Research and develop internal and external processes for new gas utilities
- Ability to confidently and clearly defend technical recommendations utilizing sound industry standards and referencing past performance