

Example of Hazardous Materials Technician Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our innovative and growing company is hiring for a hazardous materials technician. We appreciate you taking the time to review the list of qualifications and to apply for the position. If you don't fill all of the qualifications, you may still be considered depending on your level of experience.

Responsibilities for hazardous materials technician

- Drive Hazardous Materials trucks and vehicles
- Detailed knowledge of relevant national standards and codes of practice, including applicable state and federal regulations
- Advanced proficiency with relevant desktop applications
- Advanced research, data gathering and analysis skills
- Developing skills, including technical, project management, relationship management, sector expertise and commercial awareness
- May act as lead on an individual task
- May prepare cost estimate for individual task
- Work independently under direction and review of senior scientist
- May delegate and oversee work performed by junior staff
- Act as a project resource, completing allocated activities to meet budget, timeframe and quality objectives and meet or exceed client expectations

Qualifications for hazardous materials technician

- Completion of an accredited hazardous materials management curriculum to meet the HAZWOPER requirements
- Demonstrated knowledge of manifest completion according to Land Disposal Restriction and Hazardous Waste profiles associated with shipping radioactive and hazardous wastes

Protective Equipment

- Ability to organize, work independently exercising good judgement, take initiative, set priorities, meet deadlines and schedule tasks to complete projects effectively and efficiently
- Ability to handle routine administrative matters without close supervision
- Good oral communication skills necessary to effectively to recommend hazardous waste disposal and relate technical information to a diverse clientele