

Example of Health Informatics Specialist Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our growing company is hiring for a health informatics specialist. Please review the list of responsibilities and qualifications. While this is our ideal list, we will consider candidates that do not necessarily have all of the qualifications, but have sufficient experience and talent.

Responsibilities for health informatics specialist

- Able to monitor and report the frequency and effectiveness of these end user training efforts
- Develops and maintains expertise in CMS Risk Adjustment
- Works with senior team members to build and maintain predictive modeling to support program analysis
- Develops Ad Hoc reports, as needed, for the Risk Adjustment team, providing guidance and recommendations on best practices
- Provides deep dive analysis of trends across all programs within the Risk Adjustment organization
- Conducts or participates in complex financial analysis projects and/or reporting related to prospective and retrospective risk adjustment programs
- Presents results and recommendations to Risk Adjustment and Health Services leadership
- Improves current risk adjustment analytics and develops new methodologies for measuring risk adjustment results under the direction of Analytics Director and Risk Adjustment leadership
- Develops an intermediate level of expertise in CMS Risk Adjustment
- Develops Ad Hoc reports, as needed, for the Risk Adjustment team

Qualifications for health informatics specialist

- Willing to work with students and parents from a variety of socioeconomic and educational backgrounds
- Experience using SAS, SQL or other related application to convert data into meaningful information strongly preferred
- Ability to partner with colleagues on cross-functional teams required
- College, University Bachelor or above
- Advanced IT Certificate or equivalent in information and electrical engineering