

Example of Health Project Manager Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our company is growing rapidly and is hiring for a health project manager. We appreciate you taking the time to review the list of qualifications and to apply for the position. If you don't fill all of the qualifications, you may still be considered depending on your level of experience.

Responsibilities for health project manager

- Maintain effective rapport with regulatory agencies, and personnel by arranging continuing contacts
- Design and lead a multifaceted educational and training program that focuses on the elements of the regulatory and compliance mandates seeking to ensure stakeholders are knowledgeable of and comply with federal, state and local regulatory mandates
- Respond to government investigations and queries as a key point of contact
- Verifies contractor compliance with all applicable requirements such as COI, certifications, qualifications, training
- Provide project management support for a wide variety of market access projects for pharmaceutical clients
- Prepares detailed reports and summaries specific to time reporting, project estimates and reconciliation as needed
- This leadership position will be a back-up position for the Project Manager
- Recommend prioritization of projects and ensure procedures and processes are followed
- Work with the client to gather requirements on new projects
- Identify program critical success factors and drive mitigation of significant issues and risks

Qualifications for health project manager

- Willingness to travel, both within the United States and to international locations in support of client programs
- Familiarity with PMBOK methodologies
- Gather Requirements/Define Scope
- Project Time Estimates
- Data simulation