

Example of Health Specialist Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our innovative and growing company is searching for experienced candidates for the position of health specialist. To join our growing team, please review the list of responsibilities and qualifications.

Responsibilities for health specialist

- Work with the Marble Institute of America and service as a committee member
 - Lead efforts pertaining to value streaming of safety and health programs as it relates to programs, databases and training
 - Maintains accurate documentation and assists in departmental medical records upkeep
 - Perform comprehensive safety and industrial hygiene audits of Duke departments
 - Develop comprehensive sampling strategies for specific project and work areas, and perform sampling to evaluate personnel exposures and engineering controls
 - Recognize injury and illness trends within the organization and work with supervisor to develop and implement Duke-wide solutions (policies and training strategies)
 - Perform Job Hazard Assessment and recommend measures to control exposures, including substitution of less hazardous materials, personal protective equipment (PPE), work practice changes, and engineering controls
 - Prepare training classes and materials and deliver training courses that have already been developed
 - Provide solutions to a variety of problems where analysis of data requires evaluation of identifiable factors
 - Ability to work with HSHCI management and follow supervisory instruction
-

- Bachelor's or Master's degree in a specialized area related to occupational health & safety
- Experience working in public health a plus, but not required
- Knowledge and implementation of behavior change theory
- Bachelor's Degree in health/fitness related field
- Maintain positive and proactive relations with managers and employees, our clients and regulatory agencies
- Current CPR/AED certifications preferred group Exercise experience a plus