

Example of Health Specialist Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our company is growing rapidly and is looking for a health specialist. If you are looking for an exciting place to work, please take a look at the list of qualifications below.

Responsibilities for health specialist

- Work collaboratively with other members of the Health Management Team
- Work with other members of the Health Plan Health Management Team to review member health information and triage members to the appropriate health intervention
- Support licensed medical staff to directly deliver and support clinical services, conduct health promotion counseling, and make referrals to needed services based on assessed behavior change readiness
- Be responsible for field based syringe exchange services
- Be responsible for field based overdose prevention trainings and naloxone distribution – naloxone is a prescription medication that reverses opioid overdose
- Work closely with men who have sex with men, people who inject drugs, and clientele from culturally/ethnically diverse communities including African Americans and Latinos
- Provide services in field based and clinic based settings with service hours scheduled to meet population needs
- Have the ability to work in an effective, respectful and culturally competent manner with clientele, community partners, and team members to provide a full complement of services that prevent infections and work to eliminate health disparities
- Have the ability to learn and perform phlebotomy / STD testing and competently navigate EPIC (electronic medical record)
- Perform and document radiation measurements related to medical treatment

Qualifications for health specialist

- Ability to independently frame and approach policy and business development projects and lead others in accomplishing them
- Bachelor's degree with a major in scientific/technical area of study required. Significant work experience with radiological control techniques
- Master's Degree in health education, public health, health promotion, health communications, social work or related field
- Strong knowledge of health promotion and student development theories
- Exceptional communication and public speaking skills in order to effectively deliver programs and health promotion materials to diverse audiences
- High School Diploma required, Associates or Bachelors degree is preferred