

Example of Imaging Tech Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our growing company is looking to fill the role of imaging tech. We appreciate you taking the time to review the list of qualifications and to apply for the position. If you don't fill all of the qualifications, you may still be considered depending on your level of experience.

Responsibilities for imaging tech

- Aids patients with completing pre-contrast CT and pre-MRI Safety questionnaires
- Assist Radiologist and Technologist setting up contrast
- Assist with positioning and performing exams, but should never hold the detector or patients for Radiation procedures
- Depending on modality, may utilize complex imaging equipment for the acquisition, analysis, reconstruction and documentation of image data and completes procedures according to protocol under the supervision of a Radiologist or Technologist
- Maintain clinical proficiency for all completed competencies and equipment skills
- May perform daily equipment inspections, warm up procedures and follow Quality Control Program under supervision of a Technologist
- Obtain quality images while following radiation safety standards and protocols
- Assist with positioning and performing exams, but should never hold the detector or patients for Radiation procedures
- May perform daily equipment inspections, warm up procedures and follow Quality Control Program under supervision of a Technologist
- Obtain quality images while following radiation safety standards and protocols

Qualifications for imaging tech

- Must possess a valid State of Arizona Radiologic Technologist license in Mammography and Radiology
- Must possess a valid ARRT license in RT and Mammography
- Prepares room, equipment, contrast media and materials as needed for procedures
- Properly warms X-Ray equipment daily, and assures equipment is working properly
- Successful completion of a radiological program or equivalent military training
- Previous radiological experience preferred but not required