Our company is growing rapidly and is looking for an implementation business analyst. We appreciate you taking the time to review the list of qualifications and to apply for the position. If you don't fill all of the qualifications, you may still be considered depending on your level of experience.

Responsibilities for implementation business analyst

- Manage internal/external stakeholder communication including Technical/Functional escalations
- Update reporting/documentation with task details and provide regular updates to team
- Mentor and coach team members on technical aspects
- Initiate/Lead & Conceptualize to implement ideas of process automation
- Be responsible for eliciting, validating, and finalizing requirements packages and managing through change control
- Contribute to risk identification, mitigation, impact analysis and reporting
- Ensure business requirements are consumable by development teams and manage the communication and translation between customer and developer
- Contribute to the functional design and configuration of the CRM solution including entity and schema design, form and view layouts, business process and workflow design
- Contribute to the planning and execution of the testing phases of projects and assist in the triage of feedback against requirements and scope
- Construct and deliver training to end users on the usage of the application

Qualifications for implementation business analyst

- Experience in business and system analysis (gathering requirements, creating

- Basic understanding of banking products (Corporate Banking and/or Capital Markets)
- University degree in IT or Finance/Accounting
- Proven ability to collaborate at multiple levels, across divisions, functions and cultures
- Previous experience in the preparation of budgets, forecasting techniques, cost tracking