

Example of Information Assurance Manager Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our innovative and growing company is looking to fill the role of information assurance manager. If you are looking for an exciting place to work, please take a look at the list of qualifications below.

Responsibilities for information assurance manager

- Present information and influence change at the executive management level
- Quickly analyze information security controls, produce clearly written assessments, and provide constructive action items to third parties
- Ensure the business is able to move forward with industry leading technology and relationships all the while ensuring the safety and security of our customers' data
- Supporting the definition of the IA TPM Program strategy
- Partnering with Program stakeholders (Information Security & Risk Management, Corporate Security Services, Business Continuity and Technology Operations) to maintain necessary control coverage and facilitate the change management for the associated revisions
- Partnering across the TPM community to drive Program revisions/enhancements
- Conducting assessments of third parties' for pilot of new assessment approaches and facilitate the change management for incorporation into the Program
- Identify and implement process improvements across all aspects of the program
- Develops and publishes Company information assurance standards, policies and guidelines encompassing security of sensitive data and intellectual property, operational resiliency
- Represents the company as a knowledgeable resource on cybersecurity

Qualifications for information assurance manager

- Prior experience in EPIC
- Lab Quality Assurance (QA) experience
- Knowledge of application software development lifecycle concepts, lead and agile best practices, environment and configuration management, test management methodologies and practice (8 years)
- At least 6 years of experience in cybersecurity and risk management concepts and disciplines and internal control assessments
- At least 5 years of experience within an Information Assurance Security
- At least 5 years of Technology Risk Management discipline