

Example of Instructional Systems Designer Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our innovative and growing company is hiring for an instructional systems designer. To join our growing team, please review the list of responsibilities and qualifications.

Responsibilities for instructional systems designer

- Partner with subject matter experts, instructors, e-Learning specialists to identify content and develop activities
- Formulate well-written, complex problems to challenge learner's perceptions and problem solving abilities
- Conduct analysis to define problems, collect data, draw valid conclusions, and pay close attention to detail
- Demonstrate extraordinary writing ability including the ability to peer-edit providing feedback and improving overall quality of deliverables
- Create engaging learning activities and compelling course content that enhances retention and transfer Manage and complete projects within a specified timeline while prioritizing and working on multiple projects simultaneously
- Develop Instructor Led Training (ILT) and Instructor/Student Guides
- Able to travel for field training
- Present Instructor Led Training in a classroom environment conduct system demonstrations via on-line webinars
- Research existing course content and propose new or updated course materials, which apply best practices and principles of adult learning
- Research and assess new learning materials and new ISO resources

Qualifications for instructional systems designer

- Instructional Design Experience – 5+ Years (7+ Years)
- Creative problem solving ability – 5+ Years
- Ability to work collaboratively – 5+ Years
- Training experience – 3+ Years
- Knowledge of the following Adult Learning Theories