

Example of Integration Developer Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our company is growing rapidly and is hiring for an integration developer. If you are looking for an exciting place to work, please take a look at the list of qualifications below.

Responsibilities for integration developer

- Lead, design, and implement integration metrics processes to ensure integrations are effective, accurate, and timely and include error handling monitoring and/or alerting
- Work with Tibco administrators during project deployment phases
- Become expert in detailed Tibco product knowledge, focus on integration products and also on Tibco BPM suite
- Work on proof of concepts and prototypes to test new Tibco capabilities
- Support Integration architect in preparation of Integration roadmaps
- Monitor integrations and properly alert colleagues and customers when processes fail or are experiencing degraded performance
- Advise on architectural strategies and best practice approaches
- Drive product excellence in our Integration and API portfolio (integrations to new and existing channels, business partners, and throughout the enterprise), with a goal of exceeding our customers' expectations and increasing profit in our digital channels
- Provide hands-on assistance to various roles on the extended team, driving team toward practices aligned with DevOps principles
- Post implementation and overnight support

Qualifications for integration developer

- Experience in handling IBM InfoSphere Information Server 8.5+ using DataStageDesigner & Director

- Experience with datastage admin task e.g patch install, configure DB's a plus
- Working knowledge in UNIX shell scripting
- XML, cXML
- JSP, HTML, JavaScript, Servlets