

Example of Integration Developer Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our company is looking for an integration developer. If you are looking for an exciting place to work, please take a look at the list of qualifications below.

Responsibilities for integration developer

- Completion of project(s) that are 'fit for purpose' and delivered within time and budget
- High-level estimates provided are consistently sufficiently accurate for planning purposes
- System changes handed over to support are sufficiently stable to not affect system Key Performance Indicators
- System service is performing to Key Performance Indicators
- Service Orientated Architecture developments are built in line with principles and standards defined by the SOA Governance Board
- Accountable to provide required technical support, including release implementations, on-call and 24x7 support when necessary
- Develop and maintain SSRS Reports
- Administer 1 st level interface and reporting support for staff and customers
- Monitor the Cybernet (backend scheduler) and Cleo Clarify processing servers for exception events and take necessary steps to resolve the immediate issue and then suggest or implement changes to avoid the same event in the future
- Responsible for updating the Business Integration knowledge base

Qualifications for integration developer

- Expertise in Informatica V9.0 and above
- Expertise in writing the SQL queries
- Bachelor's Degree is required, preferably in Computer Science, MIS, or

- 6 years of relevant EAI and TIBCO design and development experience, including experience with end-to-end integration testing and performance tuning in the integration layer (in addition to degree or years of previous experience)
- 2 years of Java (J2EE, EJB, JSP) development experience
- 2 years of experience with development and deployment strategies for EAI service end- points and data-flows