

Example of Intelligence Manager Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our growing company is searching for experienced candidates for the position of intelligence manager. Thank you in advance for taking a look at the list of responsibilities and qualifications. We look forward to reviewing your resume.

Responsibilities for intelligence manager

- Ensure knowledge and learning are captured, codified, and shared
- Analysis of key go-to-market strategies such as pricing, windowing, and promotions, across multiple product lines
- Serve as the brand “navigator” by providing thought leadership in brand management
- +/-40% of time) Drive initiative on insight generation from syndicated research/market data
- Have a minimum of 10 years’ experience in analysis, reporting, research or insights role
- Have excellent understanding of the Australian telecommunications environment
- Have experience in developing strategy for telecommunication products
- Have the ability to distil analysis and make coherent recommendations to drive business decision making Ability to guide collaborate work drawing on resources in other teams and have other priorities
- Have the aptitude to work with internal data and guide decision making
- Have the ability to present to all levels of management, clearly articulate complex concepts in simple terms

Qualifications for intelligence manager

- Excellent research skills are necessary
- Excellent verbal and written communication skills are desired

- Proven track record in data analysis, predictive analytics, data mining tools and techniques
- Excellent verbal and written communication skills, ability to face off with senior business leaders