V

Example of Interventional Radiology Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our company is growing rapidly and is looking to fill the role of interventional radiology. We appreciate you taking the time to review the list of qualifications and to apply for the position. If you don't fill all of the qualifications, you may still be considered depending on your level of experience.

Responsibilities for interventional radiology

- Assist the Radiologist during the entire course of the procedure as requested by the clinician on patients based on age appropriateness
- Establishes and maintains lines of communication with other medical center departments in order to ensure safe and effective patient care
- Regulate patient flow into and out of the department and functions as a liaison between Radiology and other departments to ensure continuity of services
- Maintains a high level of technical skills to regularly and proficiently organize, train and counsel technical staff, with regard to job performance, professional growth and knowledge of departmental policies and procedures
- Utilizes expertise to provide leadership and training for technologists in their section of imaging/radiology
- Oversees staffing, scheduling and payroll utilizing workday and krono's applications
- Oversee operations at multiple campuses to deliver IR ervices
- Communicates to radiologists clinical observations during interventional radiology procedures
- Assist in gathering, recording data and serving as committee member for Radiology Quality Assurance/Performance Improvement programs
- Demonstrates competency in the knowledge of the EPIC/PACS modules appropriate to their job responsibilities

- Must be credentialed to practice by Hospital Medical Board
- Must have an understanding of anatomy and pathology and how they affect the quality of a procedure
- High School or GED dipoma
- Graduate of a Committee of Allied Health Education and A.M.A
- Familiarity with CPT coding
- The Interventional Radiology Technologist will perform diagnostic angiographic procedures and completing complex vascular and non-vascular interventional procedures exams on inpatient, outpatient and emergency department