

Example of Interventional Radiology Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our company is growing rapidly and is searching for experienced candidates for the position of interventional radiology. We appreciate you taking the time to review the list of qualifications and to apply for the position. If you don't fill all of the qualifications, you may still be considered depending on your level of experience.

Responsibilities for interventional radiology

- Relates the preparation information to patients or nursing as required
- Performs venous access procedures according to departmental policy
- Performs contrast media administration according to hospital and departmental policies
- Prior to the start of any procedure, carefully explains the procedures to the patient, parent, or legal guardian, using easily understood terms and obtains verbal permission from the patient to perform the exam
- Uses translator as required
- Ensures that the physician is aware of possible pregnancy and obtains a written consent from the patient and/or her physician for any exam performed during pregnancy
- Utilizes appropriate skills in accurately and descriptively documenting patient's pertinent clinical information including the patient's needs, taking into consideration the growth and development level of the patient and age specific related factors as evidenced by documentation on the history form
- Responsibly documents patient allergies and pertinent medical surgical history
- Obtains all pertinent lab results as required
- Consults with radiologist regarding contraindications to ordered exam

Qualifications for interventional radiology

- Strong knowledge base relative to surgery procedures and management of surgical patients
- Graduate of an accredited school of nursing (Registered Nurse Program), BSN preferred
- Minimum of 2 years' experience in a hospital setting, a clinical background in acute care preferred
- Training and skill in moderate sedation management and dysrhythmia interpretation
- Graduation from a hospital-based or college-based radiology program
- Washington State Certification for Radiologic Technologist and a certificate from the American Registry of Radiological Technology (ARRT) current registration with ARRT