Our company is searching for experienced candidates for the position of IT architecture consultant. If you are looking for an exciting place to work, please take a look at the list of qualifications below.

Responsibilities for IT architecture consultant

- Working closely with Delivery Managers, Functional Solution Architects and with business to architect technology solutions to meet business needs
- Design applications and services to support domain and program demands ensuring
- High levels of scalability and resilience
- Industry competitive measure of performance
- Seamless and responsive customer experience
- Security and data privacy
- Perform detailed analysis of systems specifications for complex systems
- Design, develop, and implement efficient and cost-effective technology solutions
- Evaluate and modify existing program logics to improve overall system performance
- Conduct feasibility studies for significant new systems or expansion of current systems and provide input to technical standards and systems investments

Qualifications for IT architecture consultant

- Subject matter expert in design and closure of complex services solutions involving multiple service area or technologies
- Good in database principles, SQL, and experience working with large databases (esp

- 6+ years of hands on experience in building multi-tier applications (such as Java, .NET)
- 7+ years of related, progressive, post-baccalaureate experience
- Ability to create both conceptual and logical business models