Our innovative and growing company is looking to fill the role of java applications developer, associate. If you are looking for an exciting place to work, please take a look at the list of qualifications below.

Responsibilities for java applications developer, associate

- Hands on Experience with Hadoop and map-reduce concepts
- Experience in communicating with other technical teams, and Business Analyst to collect requirements, describe software product features, technical designs
- Experience in relational database, Oracle, PLSQL skills
- UI Technologies - HTML5, JavaScript, Angular JS, ReactJS
- Ideal candidate should have the ability and inclination to learn & pick-up new tools & technologies quickly
- At least 4 years of experience in developing software using Core Java technologies –they must have at least 4 years of experience in Core Java technologies

Qualifications for java applications developer, associate

- Must have 4-8 years of experience in developing software using Core Java technologies – candidates having experience in C/C++ are also welcome, but they must have at least 6 years of experience in Core Java technologies
- Must be strong in fundamentals of programming – just using the readily available frameworks for development would not suffice
- Experience working on UNIX based platforms
- Must be a very good team player, organized
- Must be able to work extra hours and weekend support if required