Our innovative and growing company is looking to fill the role of junior .NET developer. Thank you in advance for taking a look at the list of responsibilities and qualifications. We look forward to reviewing your resume.

Responsibilities for junior .NET developer

- Production of Technical Specifications for .Net project work
- Participate in development and maintenance of our client*s system by maintaining their existing code base extending it with new features as requested by Marketing and management
- Write unit tests, conform to code standards, have your designs and code reviewed, use both static and performance analysis tools
- Participate in our training programs designed to increase your software level knowledge
- Be committed to stretch goal achievement and willing to do what it takes to get the job done
- Perform use-case testing of web applications, engaging users as necessary
- Conduct all user acceptance testing, and report results
- Utilize complex .NET methodology to support meeting customer expectations, resulting in delivery of a timely and high quality product
- Study and research trends and new/improving/changing technologies regarding .NET development, programming standards, application architecture, business processes, and functional areas for application
- Utilize .Net C# to build backend system components to meet project quality expectations

Qualifications for junior .NET developer

- Ideally experience/knowledge with Visual Studio

- Experience of SDLC/Scrum methodologies
- Good verbal communication skills to explain complex solutions to customers in a clear and concise manner
- Ability to maintain specialist knowledge that is accurate and current, to be in a position to meet demands both current and anticipated