Our company is looking for a lead applications developer. Thank you in advance for taking a look at the list of responsibilities and qualifications. We look forward to reviewing your resume.

Responsibilities for lead applications developer

- Leads team to develop enterprise-level web-based and C/S applications using object-oriented programming languages
- Provides back-end systems such as roles in maintaining web and application servers and including installations and configurations
- Under broad direction, often working independently and providing leadership for others
- Participate in and providing leadership for analysis leading to requirements, estimates, and system designs
- Performs quality assurance reviews, documentation, system deployment, and often involves performing project analyses, designs, , for/with customers
- Interaction with vendors and suppliers of services
- Coordinating the effective use of the development team's time and ensuring efficient communication between team members and other IT functional areas
- Providing feedback and suggestions for process and product improvement
- Acting as a technical mentor and adviser for the development team
- This position is for a functional resource that will be performing SAP Asset Management Integration and SAP Plant Maintenance Project / Support work

Qualifications for lead applications developer

- Knowledge of version and revision control practices and procedures with

- Hands on experience in Oracle SQL, Sybase TransactSQL
- Proven track record of successfully leading a team delivering technology solutions (IB environment is a plus)
- Work within small teams of committed developers to deliver optimised technology solutions
- Motivated and ability to work effectively with no supervision