

Example of Lead Product Manager Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our growing company is looking to fill the role of lead product manager. If you are looking for an exciting place to work, please take a look at the list of qualifications below.

Responsibilities for lead product manager

- Provide input on decomposing complex problems into smaller manageable tasks by creating and prioritizing a backlog for the Product Team
- Assist with managing the product backlog, contribute towards creating an effective vision and provide timely stakeholder feedback on development iterations
- Manage cross-functional team responsible for new product assessment process for new certificate programs, curriculum bundles, or major initiatives
- Analyst – Product Development (2)
- Execute on the roadmap set up by you and the team to achieve our goals
- Lead product management teams that manage product portfolios of ACDelco and GM aftermarket product lines while providing global oversight
- Develop and implement product line “go-to-market” strategies that align with ACDelco and M&R Channel requirements while meeting financial and market targets
- Support Global Product, Sourcing and Branding initiatives by leveraging teams assets
- Continuously monitor competitor and industry developments
- Support and lead execution of CCA aftersales strategic initiatives and product promotions

Qualifications for lead product manager

- Technical know-how—you have a solid understanding of how software is

- Leadership—you can motivate your teammates to create amazing products and processes
- Superb communication—you have excellent written and verbal communication skills
- The ability to apply your skills and experience to company objectives so that you can resolve complex issues in creative and effective ways
- Must be data driven in decision making and recommendations
- Experience and ability for P&L within the products the candidate manages