

Example of Lead UI Developer Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our growing company is hiring for a lead UI developer. To join our growing team, please review the list of responsibilities and qualifications.

Responsibilities for lead UI developer

- Conduct QA on all front end code to ensure proper display across all supported browsers/devices
- Responsible for the analysis, design and implementation of UI part of application
- Manage Development team with 3-5 members (for Senior/Team Lead)
- Design, implement, and maintain code for our industry leading, end-to-end security monitoring solutions
- Work closely with product management, system architects, UX designers, and subject matter experts to help define epics, features, and stories within our agile process
- Design and implementation of new features
- Research and suggest direction for key decisions regarding technical architecture, 3rd party tools, and delivery process improvements
- Participate in defining the UI/UX strategy for the product, define and implement design process, including design estimation, user experience workflows
- Work closely with customer operators to conduct usability related research on workflows and effective operations
- You will take part in end-to-end system architecture, working with back-end engineers

Qualifications for lead UI developer

- Should be pass-out from reputed Engineering College in CSE or IT or ECE

- Understanding of modern Web Development
- Ability to manually craft HTML and CSS
- Travel will be required to the West Coast for training and knowledge transfer
- The ideal candidate will be eligible for hire in the United States without sponsorship