Our growing company is looking for a manager analyst. If you are looking for an exciting place to work, please take a look at the list of qualifications below.

Responsibilities for manager analyst

- Ensure that all contracts are reviewed for revenue recognition compliance in accordance with US GAAP (Topic 605, esp
- Ensure all SOX controls are followed and documented for assigned region
- Oversee the timely setup of contracts in the PeopleSoft "Contracts Module" for proper revenue/cost recognition under the Company's revenue/expense accounting policy
- Lead the efforts to quantify New Revenue Recognition Standard impact for 2017 and onward and proactively participate in the implementation of New Revenue Recognition Standard (ASC 606)
- Interact with internal and external auditors, providing audit schedules requested, and communicate audit findings to the broader revenue accounting team in a timely manner to ensure consistency and awareness
- Maintain and update internal Sarbanes-Oxley documentation for revenue recognition and support internal and external audits of related controls
- Comment on the monthly Revenue Analytics and deferred revenue recon files for assigned business units/geographies
- Review and approve regional deferred revenue and unbilled AR schedules for completeness and accuracy
- Responsible for the completeness and accuracy of US GAAP and (if applicable) IFRS revenue and deferred revenue accounts
- Use analytical skills and findings to make recommendations on process improvements, IT, and opportunities to grow bottom line revenue

Qualifications for manager analyst

- 3+ years of experience managing a team of data engineers
- Minimum bachelor's degree in marketing, journalism, English, business or related field
- Experience with statistical programming language (R statistical environment, SAS)
- Able to communicate in both verbal and written form
- Familiar with access management systems and IT controls for access management