Our growing company is hiring for a manager, business intelligence. If you are looking for an exciting place to work, please take a look at the list of qualifications below.

Responsibilities for manager, business intelligence

- Work within multiple databases/servers
- Lead team with focus and passion to deliver error-free analyses
- Perform miscellaneous duties as assigned by management, including special reports and projects
- Support GTM Americas by partnering with Market Development, Finance, Sales Operations and Customer Operations to develop sales analytics tools
- Turn insights into action
- Align with "Big Data" teams across the organization to support GTM Americas growth aspirations
- Develop an operating rhythm with Sales Organization to collect and maintain competitive insights
- Act as central point during strategic reviews
- Support Market Development and Business Operations ad-hoc initiatives that provide actionable insight
- Lead several cross-functional projects across multiple geographies on behalf of the European head-office (limited travel involved)

Qualifications for manager, business intelligence

- Ability to identify and manage risks and issues
- Cross functional work experience preferred
- Worked with Business Intelligence software to develop KPIs and build

- Experience managing teams with diverse skill sets
- Experience in designing and delivering large cross functional custom reporting solutions by managing technical teams