Our company is hiring for a manager, data. If you are looking for an exciting place to work, please take a look at the list of qualifications below.

Responsibilities for manager, data

- Maintaining the electronic data transfer process, modifications and amendments
- Assist other colleagues to validate data, QC the program and ensure both quality and integrity of data
- Responsible for data related trial meetings, project communication, EDT administration overhead, EDT QA, internal and external study related audits, archiving
- Work closely with Project Manager to ensure study milestones are achieved successfully on-time
- Always ensure services performed are as per the sponsor contract agreement and inform Study Project Manager when client data deliveries are outside the scope of the study budget to initiate change order
- Support with generating customized shipping manifests where the system generated standard manifests is not acceptable
- Support other departments within the organization who has a need for data or custom report that requires technical skills to develop
- A hands on approach to work is required to lead and show the way to the team
- Lead and drive exploration and analysis of data across a variety of data platforms
- Leverage versatile technical capabilities and team leadership skills to drive the development and implementation of data products/capabilities that enable self-service by data consumers

- Bachelor or Master's degree in a technical discipline with 15 years or more of relevant work experience with 3-5 years of direct supervisory experience managing a team
- Experience of desktop/laptop migrations
- At least 2 years as data Manager or similar position and experience in gaming industry is a plus
- Technically oriented individual with a passion for optimizing customer and user experience
- Knowledge of advertising research providers
- Knowledge of open market data providers