

Example of Manufacturing Director Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our innovative and growing company is searching for experienced candidates for the position of manufacturing director. If you are looking for an exciting place to work, please take a look at the list of qualifications below.

Responsibilities for manufacturing director

- Leads the group's involvement in the planning processes
- Lead efforts with Design Engineering, Manufacturing Engineering, and Suppliers to design to capability
- Lead efforts to predict design for manufacturability, yield, test, and drive change utilizing the ME enabling tool suite (Yield, Complexity, and DFM prediction models)
- Lead development of a UPC (Unit Product Cost) model and coordinate updates, including
- Develops strategic roadmap for Retail Optical Americas Operations and supports long range planning
- Leads network transformation projects ($100MM+ in capital investment)
- Ad hoc researches in eco system trends, competitor dynamics and benchmarking studies to inform our long term strategy in lens sourcing and lab operations
- Responsible for key strategic projects and major transformations
- Develops analytical models/insights and business cases for new initiatives
- Leads cross-functional teams to design and implement key initiatives

Qualifications for manufacturing director

- Must have knowledge of manufacturing equipment, processes, and procedures and an extensive knowledge of scheduling concepts and procedures

- Must have the ability to determine load factors and manufacturing requirements
- Ability to perform long-term project planning with meaningful timelines and budget forecasting
- Capable of motivating others, creating a positive work climate where inter-departmental collaboration, coaching and performance feedback are continuous
- Capable of clearly assigning objectives, clearly setting and measuring and monitoring progress, marshaling resources and handling competing priorities