

Example of MRI Technologist Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our growing company is searching for experienced candidates for the position of MRI technologist. Thank you in advance for taking a look at the list of responsibilities and qualifications. We look forward to reviewing your resume.

Responsibilities for MRI technologist

- Trains new hires and conducts ongoing reviews on clinical competencies
- Assists with day to day unit operational issues
- Works with team and customer on protocol development and review
- Under the direction of the Imaging Director, and the medical direction of the radiologists, perform all phases of cross sectional imaging
- Scheduling, transporting patients, ordering supplies, inventory, cleaning, and anything deemed necessary by the Medical Imaging Management Team
- Technologist is responsible for the Protection patients and staff from the magnetic field, including but not limited to all safety measures
- Job may include direct supervision of students at the discretion of the area supervisor
- Employee must have the same licensure or have completed the same training to satisfy the requirements of the discipline of the student
- Direct supervision means the primary caregiver is readily available to the student throughout the shift
- Responsible for patient safety including pre-screening for contraindications, aseptic injection technique, and radiation safety/regulations, including proper documentation and technique when working with radioactive materials/patients

Qualifications for MRI technologist

- A minimum of 2 years of MR experience in high volume environments

- ARRT (MR)
- ARRT (R) ARRT (MR)
- ARRT (R) (MR)
- MR Registry required