Our innovative and growing company is searching for experienced candidates for the position of multimedia developer. If you are looking for an exciting place to work, please take a look at the list of qualifications below.

Responsibilities for multimedia developer

- Travels both internationally and domestically as needed for the project
- May perform or coordinate other duties as assigned
- Experienced with programming SCORM (1.2 and 2004) and Section 508 compliant courseware
- Maintain and enhance existing applications and all internal systems are integrated
- Perform complete testing of IMI applications using ADL Test Suite
- Conduct all user acceptances testing, and report results
- Work with Subject Matter Experts to develop strategies for online learning and delivery
- Applying best practices in information architecture and user-centered design
- Designing and testing for usability, and accessibility
- Visual and interaction design of web applications

Qualifications for multimedia developer

- Immersive products in an educational context
- Work confidently with a range of multimedia including animation and video
- Collaborate and communicate clearly and accurately with a variety of partners and senior figures within the organization
- Be willing to travel occasionally and represent the team at conferences and exhibitions
- Four (4) years of experience in web development and design