

Example of Music Professor Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our company is growing rapidly and is searching for experienced candidates for the position of music professor. Please review the list of responsibilities and qualifications. While this is our ideal list, we will consider candidates that do not necessarily have all of the qualifications, but have sufficient experience and talent.

Responsibilities for music professor

- Actively recruit jazz and instrumental students and participate in department recruiting activities
- Share advising responsibilities for majors in performance, Bachelor of Arts, and Bachelor of Musical Arts programs
- Participate in School of Arts and Communication and Department of Music
- Directing ensembles each semester from elementary to advanced levels
- Collaborating with the Dance Department's Artist-in-Residence in West African dance for annual or semi-annual concert performances
- Teaching occasional courses in areas of special interest (at the undergraduate or graduate level) with a frequency to be determined by the needs of the program
- Maintaining active career as an artist and/or scholar
- Advising undergraduate senior projects and honors theses, and graduate theses
- The teaching load is five courses (including ensembles) per academic year
- Teach undergraduate courses in Instrumental Music Education

Qualifications for music professor

- Demonstrate ability to work successfully with diverse populations of students and faculty
- Demonstrate record of supervising student teachers

- Candidate must demonstrate potential for continued scholarly research/creative activities
- College level teaching experience is desired
- 3 years successful teaching (K-12) and strong commitment to music education at the public school level