Our innovative and growing company is looking to fill the role of network security analyst. If you are looking for an exciting place to work, please take a look at the list of qualifications below.

Responsibilities for network security analyst

- Articulate customers' business and technical objectives and transform it into technical solutions
- Document computer security policies, procedures and provide alternative solutions to requests that violate policies
- Briefing the customer on recommended courses of action, as applicable
- Capturing lessons learned and documenting them in Standard Operating Procedures (SOP)
- Collaborating with other teams to deconflict and resolve issues
- Develop and formalize a process whereby the review of submissions is streamlined
- Conduct briefings to senior leadership, as required by the government
- Conduct incident response IAW DoD/IC policy (Chairman of the Joint Chiefs Staff Manual/CJCSM 6510, Intelligence Community Standard/ICS 502 and industry best practices such as NIST Special Publication 800-61)
- Apply knowledge of information security services/analysis concepts, practices and procedures
- Research, design, develop, deploy, configure, administer, and maintain enterprise-wide Intrusion Detection System (IDS), Intrusion Prevention System (IPS) and Security Information/Event Management (SIEM) infrastructure

Qualifications for network security analyst

- Previous experience deploying host based mitigation tools
- Deep understanding of information security principles
- Ability to plan own work to meet assigned schedules and targets to direct others
- Flexibility and ability to work both in a team individually