

Example of Network Systems Analyst Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our company is growing rapidly and is looking to fill the role of network systems analyst. We appreciate you taking the time to review the list of qualifications and to apply for the position. If you don't fill all of the qualifications, you may still be considered depending on your level of experience.

Responsibilities for network systems analyst

- Execute service requests and document changes (such as new VPN Tunnels, ACL Change)
- Participate in 3rd level on call duty on a rotation basis
- Will apply Security Patches to Microsoft Windows servers on a monthly basis, during non-business hours
- Provide onside and remote support services to a multi-location environment
- Install, repair, and upgrade VoIP systems, mobile devices, and other ancillary devices
- Assist the DOJ Information Services Team with the planning, implementation and deployment of software, hardware, and other technologies that meet diverse business needs and that contribute to the successful implementation and rollout of network, VoIP and mobile technologies
- Provides project management on all assigned projects by taking the role of project leader and by defining resource needs, project timelines, implementation schedules and other duties associated with project leadership to ensure timely project completion and fulfillment of all of the project goals and objectives
- Benchmark and baseline application performance, providing feedback to Development
- Audit existing infrastructure to identify areas of improvement and risk
- Recommend mitigation strategies and follow through on approved improvement initiatives

-
- At least 5 years of PAGENT supporting AT-TLS experience
 - Deep subject matter expertise in mainframe IBM Communication Server
 - At least 8 years of Supersession experience
 - At least 8 years of REXX experience
 - At least 5 years of VPS experience
 - At least 2 years of Tectia experience