

Example of Network Systems Analyst Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our company is hiring for a network systems analyst. To join our growing team, please review the list of responsibilities and qualifications.

Responsibilities for network systems analyst

- Provide integrated hardware/software solutions
- Administer automated systems (e.g., Thompson Lab secure entry system)
- Support building security systems (CAC access, issue door combinations)
- Assist CES & T4S facilities manager, setup and take down of facility equipment, work with Public Works to get internal and external equipment fixed, and allow customers to access the Thomson Lab Building and Research tower
- May assist in the support acquisition of hardware and software, , subcontractor services as needed
- Participates actively and provides support in all business continuity and disaster recovery efforts
- Plans and implements any improvement, modification, or replacement of network infrastructure components for both wired and wireless environments
- Ensures network and IP connectivity of all workstations, application servers, and back-end office infrastructure
- Implements a secured network using best practices
- Upgrade network equipment in accordance with the campus' change management procedures

Qualifications for network systems analyst

- Administers automated systems (new or existing) to the point where they can be stabilized, documented and transitioned over to the customer
- Must be able to work independently when required work closely with other

- BS degree in CS or Engineering preferred
- Experience supporting, troubleshooting, problem isolation and deploying Cisco Call Manager
- Cisco Unified Computing Virtualization (UC on UCS) including VMware