Our company is growing rapidly and is looking for a packaging technologist. Thank you in advance for taking a look at the list of responsibilities and qualifications. We look forward to reviewing your resume.

Responsibilities for packaging technologist

- Proactively assist in resolving packaging design issues
- Take ownership of all relevant packaging development projects, as assigned by the Packaging Development Manager, and execution of same from idea generation to successful launch
- Assist the Packaging Development Manager in ensuring all projects are fulfilled on time so as to maximise customer service and manage costs effectively
- Ensure all new packaging items are successfully tested, trialed and meet agreed specifications prior to use
- Issue timely and accurate agreed critical paths and costs for all packaging development projects
- Work closely and establish positive relationships with all key stakeholders including the Marketing, Innovation, Production, Quality and Purchasing teams, along with Suppliers and Customers regarding all new projects and packaging changes
- Follow new packaging trends and innovation opportunities by attending fairs, exhibitions, suppliers and monitoring of FMCG/Drinks industry activities
- Assist the Packaging Development team in the timely and accurate approval and release of all new packaging codes and Bills of Material in SAP
- Develop cross functional efficiency and enhanced communications with other relevant departments in the company through co-operation, constructive input, results and the promotion of collaboration between the Planning, Purchasing & Inventory team members and members of other teams with

- Assist the Packaging Development Team in ensuring production site performance targets are reached, (OEE, Quality and OTIF)

Qualifications for packaging technologist

- Excelled project management and communication skills
- University degree/diploma or equivalent experience in packaging technology or a related technical discipline
- Proven packaging experience in the food industry
- Technical specification and supply chain support
- Experience within an FMCG environment, ideally with some packaging experience
- Post-secondary education, Packaging Management Technology, Science or Engineering