

Example of Pathologist Assistant Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our innovative and growing company is looking to fill the role of pathologist assistant. Thank you in advance for taking a look at the list of responsibilities and qualifications. We look forward to reviewing your resume.

Responsibilities for pathologist assistant

- Research and compile data from pathology computer system and various libraries for presentation at conferences, staff meetings, workshops and lectures
- Assist Fellows with assigned research projects
- Establish and maintain database of abstracts, reference card file of correspondence
- Prepare correspondence, charts or other narrative and statistical materials using the Microsoft Office Suite
- Produce correspondence and book chapters that are well-formatted, accurate and within time frame established by author
- Proofread all documents prior to submission and assure correct grammar, spelling and usage
- Uses appropriate reference manuals to verify accuracy (medical dictionary)
- Provide administrative support as needed for pathologists
- Continually provides and participates in on-the-job training conferences, seminars and continuing education to ensure competence and awareness of most recent technology and advances in the field
- Ensure that tests are prepared properly at all stages from specimen collection through results reporting, and performs additional special handling of the specimens if necessary or requested

Qualifications for pathologist assistant

- Masters degree in a health science field with background in biology and a minimum of one year experience in pathology
- Must fulfill all CAP requirements for grossing tissue specimens Certified by the American Society for
- Demonstrates effective communication, interpersonal skills, organizational ability, knowledge of proper body mechanics, safety measures and infection control, ability to follow instructions, knowledge of section specific test information and instrumentation may be required
- Accessioning experience is strongly preferred