

Example of Policy Analyst Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our company is looking to fill the role of policy analyst. We appreciate you taking the time to review the list of qualifications and to apply for the position. If you don't fill all of the qualifications, you may still be considered depending on your level of experience.

Responsibilities for policy analyst

- Engage in various front office projects
- Research, analyze, track, and report on technical, budget, and financial data providing recommendations to office directors to ensure compliance with guidance and accurate estimates for budget planning and execution
- Develop, produce, maintain and manage Continuity of Operations (COOP) plans, procedures, and rosters
- Serve as liaison for all Human Resource matters for Office including analyzing staffing requirements, providing recommendations to office director, and processing incoming and outgoing staff members
- Support planning and execution of programmatic meetings including developing meeting materials, managing logistics, tracking Federal financial accounts and funds, tracking action items, providing follow-up assignments and providing resolutions
- Draft, manage, and track decision-based programmatic correspondence and communication including briefings, memos, correspondence, and weekly reports
- Manage systems for storing, sharing, maintaining version control, and dispositioning records, Includes management of the office SharePoint portal (adding and maintaining information, determining and granting privilege access and providing training to office members on portal usage as required by the office director)
- Support the writing and coordination of Congressionally Directed Actions and

- Provide project management for policy issue identification, analysis, development, and resolution, and for program development
- Perform analytic duties, such as analysis of DoD/IC organizational missions as they relate to biometrics, forensics, and other related scientific disciplines

Qualifications for policy analyst

- One year in public accounting or industry with reporting, policy, or financial analysis experience
- Three years in public accounting or industry with reporting, policy, or financial analysis experience
- Requires active DOE "Q" or DOD Top Secret clearance
- Demonstrated ability to convey complex ideas in writing and draw basic conclusions
- Ability to analyze highly complex issues and provide sound recommendations
- Ability to accomplish work through others by setting objectives, determining priorities, delegating work, and holding subordinates accountable for measurable high-quality, timely, and cost-effective results