

Example of Presentation Designer Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our growing company is hiring for a presentation designer. If you are looking for an exciting place to work, please take a look at the list of qualifications below.

Responsibilities for presentation designer

- Develop creative solutions for leave-behinds, presentations, brochures, event collateral, portfolios, and more
- Independently coordinate multiple marketing efforts against rapid and frequent deadlines
- Coordinate with studios and other offices to gather and share "best practices," new presentation technologies and strategies
- Maintain presentation resource and information systems
- Attend meetings with stakeholders to create graphic representations of complex ideas
- Work with additional Presentation Specialist freelancers as needed
- Creatively conceive and illustrate complex ideas, visions, and strategies
- Coordinate with studios and other offices to gather and share "best practices" in communication strategy, design, and technology
- Maintain personal graphic resources, visual data, samples, graphic standards, and manuals
- Ensure efficient workload and time management

Qualifications for presentation designer

- Extensive knowledge and experience with latest versions of PowerPoint, including creating slide masters, being aware of PC/Mac differences, designing for various output media (projector, monitors and print-outs), object animations, embedding video
- Analyzing and brainstorming content implementation

- Design skills (game design experience a bonus)
- Ability to follow and author logic (Ability to script logic a bonus)