

Example of Procurement Consultant Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our company is hiring for a procurement consultant. If you are looking for an exciting place to work, please take a look at the list of qualifications below.

Responsibilities for procurement consultant

- Assist in the analysis of proposed commercial/financial structures
- Remain abreast of market trends and developments, including significant transactions, overall interest and equity return rates, various financing tools and development
- Provide technical assistance to Country Offices and government procurement counterparts in the formulation of Procurement planning including development of related documents (procurement action plans, lists of health products, specifications)
- A brief Inception report with timelines for tasks specified above
- Report with two case studies for women successful bidders
- A policy brief highlighting the key issues that will be used in advocating for affirmative procurement
- Approved final report with incorporated comments from UN Women, PPDA and the reference group members
- Construct, maintain and evolve advanced manufacturing cost models to incorporate Source-to-Shelf Supply Chain cost drivers by utilizing SAP, PIPE/PIMS and other relevant financial and operational systems
- Develop input and output interfaces to simulate current state and best-in-class scenarios
- Utilize data-based analytics to build insight, provide recommendations, identify total cost opportunities and recognize leverage points for better business decisions across the supply chain

Qualifications for procurement consultant

- Procurement knowledge and experience (IFIs), PPP, FIDIC
- Independent, creative, collaborative and goal oriented person
- Knowledge of Spanish is a differential
- University degree in Finance/Economics and a solid background in Finance
- Experience in Procurement is an advantage