

Example of Product Consultant Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our company is growing rapidly and is searching for experienced candidates for the position of product consultant. If you are looking for an exciting place to work, please take a look at the list of qualifications below.

Responsibilities for product consultant

- Demonstrates in depth knowledge of health product line requirements, including internal capabilities and process and external channels, to effectively execute the product management process and metrics
- Responsible for leading cross functional teams, including but not limited to sales, service, legal, actuarial, IT, compliance, audit, and Product Management Generalists
- Supports Launch activities for new products and capabilities and the transition of those capabilities to Product Management
- Oversees and ensures development of project plans and that submission of all appropriate ongoing documentation to meet Product regulatory requirements are met (i.e., annual AHCA certification for EPO and HMO lines of business)
- Development of performance metrics to assess products outcomes against segment, geography or other requirements
- Acts as SME to ensure FB maintains Product Policy for all lines of business
- Manages all appropriate business vendor relationships required for our products (i.e., Health Equity, Prime)
- Provide expert technical consulting on point of sale equipment, communication/technology processing, security infrastructure and effective utilization of payment solutions
- Develop, manage and execute marketing of new and existing portfolio of products, programs and services to a diverse customer base to increase market share while maintaining profit margins

Qualifications for product consultant

- Sets priorities and determines where to focus time consistent with highest value activities
- Thorough understanding of company policies and procedures thorough product knowledge
- Oversight or management of projects for online products – release schedules, technical upgrades
- Demonstrated ability to apply business strategy development concepts and strategy analysis models at the product/program level
- Experience working with a cross functional teams
- Demonstrated excellent organizational, analytical, planning and project management skills