

Example of Pump Technician Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our growing company is searching for experienced candidates for the position of pump technician. If you are looking for an exciting place to work, please take a look at the list of qualifications below.

Responsibilities for pump technician

- Quality – Performs all inspections, and repairs in accordance with FMC and customer standards
- Financial Performance – Maximize throughput by working efficiently and eliminating unnecessary idle time
- Training – Successfully complete all Integrated Services training requirements
- Customer Satisfaction – Adhere to customer standards
- Inventory – Properly document all inventory transactions and maintain organization of in stock items
- Facility and Environmental - Proactively supports compliance with local, state and federal standards including hazardous waste disposal and air quality standards
- As required, assist in the Service Center with asset inspection
- Repair, maintain, install, analyze, and overhauls all hydronic pumps, motors, moving supply fans, exhaust fans, including fume hood motors
- Perform routine maintenance on these systems according to equipment manufacturer recommendations
- Plan and perform corrective repairs of HVAC mechanical systems

Qualifications for pump technician

- Basic knowledge of computer and general electronics
- Share our philosophy that nothing is more important than safety
- A background in centrifugal pumps, mechanical seals, gear drives, and

- Demonstrate and practice safe use of hand tools and hand power tools typically and commonly used in maintenance tasks
- Demonstrate the ability to read technical drawings, flow sheets, equipment layout, piping and wiring schematics
- Computer skills required for documenting and recording work performed electronically in computer based maintenance system