

Example of Radiology Technologist Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our growing company is looking for a radiology technologist. Please review the list of responsibilities and qualifications. While this is our ideal list, we will consider candidates that do not necessarily have all of the qualifications, but have sufficient experience and talent.

Responsibilities for radiology technologist

- Obtain correct/current clinical history on patients
- Check orders and patient identity prior to exam
- Confirm technical quality of exam is appropriate for interpretation
- Process exam appropriately to store in PACS – clean equipment on a regular basis
- Communicate with patients, co-workers, providers and supervisors in a professional manner and be sensitive to the needs of both internal and external customers
- Explain procedures in a compassionate and sensitive manner
- Strive to support and facilitate the radiology department with other DMG care sites and departments for the betterment of the patient's experience
- Attend all safety, infection control, hazmat, programs as required by OSHA standards and CSHP
- Support and understand DaVita Medical Group mission statement and strive to positively represent DMG to the community
- Under general direction perform a variety of radiographic procedures at a skilled technical level requiring the ability to apply prescribed ionizing radiation for diagnosis

Qualifications for radiology technologist

- Current Registration with American Registry Radiologic Technology or eligible

- Current Mammographic Certification as required by the ARRT/MQSA
- Three years of experience with above average experience in all areas
- Minimum of one year post-graduate Radiology Tech experience, preferably with a pediatrics focus in a hospital setting
- Knowledge of procedures/positions for orthopedic examinations