

Example of Research RN Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our innovative and growing company is looking to fill the role of research RN. We appreciate you taking the time to review the list of qualifications and to apply for the position. If you don't fill all of the qualifications, you may still be considered depending on your level of experience.

Responsibilities for research RN

- Leads meetings and facilitates groups to achieve desired results
- Implements short term goals that align with the companys vision and business goals
- Collaboration.Partners with Nursing Leadership and interdisciplinary teams across the system in the adoption and utilization of nursing research and evidence based practice in daily nursing practice
- Project Management.Organizes research activities in accordance with approved protocols and designs standard operating procedures (SOP)
- Address barriers to care and find right support to overcome these barriers
- Knowledge of development
- Rounds on/reviews assigned patients regularly and evaluates patient progress with plan of care
- Communicates plan of care to patient and family and solicits concerns, questions, and issues for resolution
- Review with the principal investigator the inclusion/exclusion criteria, overall structure, and requirements for each protocol
- Assess and document subject compliance with study treatment/protocol requirements

Qualifications for research RN

- Understand the principles of human subject research protection

- IDX, Meditech, NextGen, PACS experience a plus
- Accredited degree as a Registered Nurse (RN)
- Oncology experience preferred (infusion, inpatient, or physician practice)
- Experience working in a community oncology physician practice a plus