

Example of RN-Infusion Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our innovative and growing company is looking to fill the role of rn-infusion. Thank you in advance for taking a look at the list of responsibilities and qualifications. We look forward to reviewing your resume.

Responsibilities for rn-infusion

- Timely collaborates with the healthcare team to report critical information or change in
- Variety of infusions and accessing the patient for bloods / chemo via peripheral lines
- Providing monitoring and continued assessment throughout the infusion period
- Accessing port-a-caths, starting IVs and handing antiemetics
- Be guided by the knowledge of base principles of nursing on the spiritual needs, and on physical/psychosocial sciences
- Ensures that the quality of patient care meets all accrediting, bioethical, and professional standards
- Perform ongoing assessment of patients and patient care area
- Be responsible for providing direct patient care in the Infusion and Chemo center facilitating patient care flow
- Performs phlebotomy and laboratory on-site testing
- Implements quality control programs by reviewing and logging all quality controls and acting appropriately when results read out of control limits

Qualifications for rn-infusion

- Previous experience in IV therapy required
- Experience in an outpatient infusion setting preferred
- Oversees day to day issues in the department, be subject matter expert for

- Properly notify supervisor/manager of situations that require immediate resolution
- Provide co-workers with direction and task assignments as needed to ensure completion of work responsibilities within the department/function
- Works closely with the supervisor to effectively staff the department and prepare for absence coverage