Our growing company is hiring for a security tester. If you are looking for an exciting place to work, please take a look at the list of qualifications below.

Responsibilities for security tester

- Understand vulnerabilities and develop relevant exploits/payloads for use during Red Team activities
- Perform security risk assessment, threat analysis and threat modeling
- Perform independent reviews of OCC's security, network, and applications
- Plan/Design/Execute security related artifacts and activities
- Stay on-time, on-budget, and within scope of testing activities
- Develop clear detailed reports and recommendations based on concrete evidence
- Debrief users and provide remediation strategy on findings
- Ensure alignment of security controls in OCC's testing program and supporting services and related policies and procedures with applicable regulations and industry standard best practices
- Assist management with the improvement of policy and procedure to support Security Testing and Red Team activities other security duties which may arise
- Participate in developing security roadmap, adopt security best practices, and implement new ideas and innovations according to the industry trends

Qualifications for security tester

- Demonstrated experience in formal penetration testing, red team, ethical hacking of embedded systems, web applications and complex networked systems
- With great detail, document weaknesses and flaws in security that other

- A deep knowledge of web technologies, solutions and attack vectors that apply to application technologies
- Design, implement, and deploy integrated security testing tools
- Experience with cloud processes & cloud platforms
- Top tier security certifications