

Example of Senior Intelligence Analyst Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our growing company is looking to fill the role of senior intelligence analyst. To join our growing team, please review the list of responsibilities and qualifications.

Responsibilities for senior intelligence analyst

- Conduct manual and system driven analysis on Fraud/ORC incidents and investigative results to identify responsible parties and trends, and make recommendations to prevent and better detect fraudulent activity
- Produce monthly, quarterly, and yearly anomaly and trend reports
- Ability to conceptualize investigative strategy
- Generate performance measurement (metrics) and statistical reports
- Understand required data, identify where data sets reside and their underlying structure to manipulate through SQL queries
- Define analytical approaches and metrics strategy to uncover new insights and formulate recommendations that improve productivity
- Support our growing economist team with clean, actionable data
- Internalize our business, end-to-end, in order to determine appropriate KPIs and perform analysis to understand the impacts of business initiatives
- Oversee and participate in development and extension of AxonMart in multiple countries and line of businesses globally
- Identify and support opportunities to improve and streamline processes regarding data flow and data quality to improve data accuracy, completeness and value

Qualifications for senior intelligence analyst

- Proficiency in the multi-dimensional design of data cubes is required
- Proficiency in data mining models is recommended

- A bachelor's degree is required, though four (4) years of additional intelligence analysis experience may be substituted for the degree
- Experience directly supporting military operations in both garrison and deployed environments