Our company is looking for a senior javascript engineer. If you are looking for an exciting place to work, please take a look at the list of qualifications below.

Responsibilities for senior javascript engineer

- Increase test coverage via unit tests and integration tests
- Actively participate in PR reviews in GitHub
- Participate in Scrum sprint ceremonies
- Work closely with product, QA and UX teams to design the best solutions for our consumers
- Develop across multiple platforms including mobile browsers and webviews
- Ensure your feature is covered with test cases
- You will design, build and deliver into production scalable Java backend services
- You will write efficient and maintainable software components, integrated in the infrastructure of our leading products and services
- You will work in a cross-functional Scrum team following best practices in software development discipline
- Deliver robust solutions for improving the investment workflow with modern technology

Qualifications for senior javascript engineer

- Knowledge of working with websockets and HTML5 web storage
- Influences through others
- Or Foundation a plus
- Some experience with modern front-end development
- You are a Full-Stack Engineer with hands on experience across multiple

- You have working knowledge for prominent engineering methodologies such as Extreme Programming, Continuous Delivery and Test Driven Development