Our innovative and growing company is searching for experienced candidates for the position of senior research. Thank you in advance for taking a look at the list of responsibilities and qualifications. We look forward to reviewing your resume.

Responsibilities for senior research

- Synthesize information from many different sources in a timely manner
- Maintain research and prospect information within the Development database
- Review online and print publications and contribute prospect related or industry specific articles to weekly department newsletter distributed to Development Office staff
- Participate in regular department review of news sources including subject area / industry specialization and expertise
- Conduct/Execute design of experiments at various stages of development to optimize formulations for clinical trials and registration
- Manage the purchase and installation of new equipment for the pharmaceutics laboratory
- Establish operating procedures for new equipment and provide training to self and other staff as necessary
- Perform physical testing of all samples obtained from the process development work
- To develop close and knowledgeable relationships with relevant departments
- Interview key industry contacts on lubricants- and base oils- related topics

Qualifications for senior research

- Understanding of computer or special purpose architectures deep circuit research experience

- Vast experience in conducting health and implementation research in developing countries, preferably in the contexts of SRH, HIV and TB programs
- Experience in designing, implementing and reporting against research and evaluation frameworks and methodologies, including implementing result/log frames and theory of change
- Strong written and oral communication skills, able to communicate and influence a wide range of professionals from different organisations and backgrounds within the NGOs and academic sector
- Proven capacity building and support skills in the area of research and program evaluation