Our growing company is hiring for a senior systems developer. We appreciate you taking the time to review the list of qualifications and to apply for the position. If you don't fill all of the qualifications, you may still be considered depending on your level of experience.

Responsibilities for senior systems developer

- Acts as technical interface to Manhattan Associates and Vendor team for external groups
- Experience of handling non-functional requirements related to performance, extensibility and security
- Ensures that platform(s) supported meets the business, technical and infrastructure needs by over-seeing the health and well-being of the technical infrastructure
- Ensures that platform and project technical design documentation is completed to a high standard
- Monitors and addresses internal and third parties work in terms of quality and adherence to standards
- Ensures accurate asset information is recorded and documented for the platforms and applications supported
- Ability to drive results with an emphasis on reducing cycle time and increasing speed to market of new business launches
- Delivers business value using creative and effective approaches
- Possesses knowledge about industry best-practices in solution delivery disciplines
- Strong business acumen and the ability to identify key issues and their impact in a broad business context

- Experience with Relational Databases and T-SQL
- Understand of IP networking technologies with specific knowledge of network addressing, routing, IP filtering, network based load balancing, IPv6 experience a plus
- SNMP, ability to read MIBs, understand SNMP table concepts, multivalued indexes
- Ideal candidate would be well versed in the concepts contained within Advanced Programming in the Unix Environment by W
- Understanding of common application performance issues
- High availability software and hardware solutions